

Retired Staff Association (UERSA)

Chair's message

Dear Friends

When in the last newsletter I welcomed the onset of summer, I hadn't anticipated what glorious weather we'd experience over the following months! Yes, August has seen duller skies than May, June and July, but it has still been warm and, though admittedly sad for the gardens, dry. All this, of course, has benefited UERSA's outdoor activities such as the walking and garden groups – no sloshing through acres of mud and bog, for instance. We also had glorious weather for the summer party held on 21 June at the Exeter Cricket Club which many members have said how much they enjoyed. There are photos of the event on the UERSA website, including one of the handsome certificate received from the Devon Freewheelers in appreciation of the donation of £110 raised as a retiring collection. They and I are grateful for your generosity.

My one disappointment during the summer was the cancellation of the planned outing to the University's Cornwall campus due to lack of numbers. Subsequent enquiries suggested various reasons for this, including timing, family holiday commitments and, on the part of some, a seeming lack of enthusiasm for viewing another part of the University. I have reported to you in the past that the UERSA Committee is keen to organise visits and events for the generality of members and many of these have indeed been better supported, but we obviously need to take care in our selection of such trips. We are putting our minds to a programme of 2019 events but do let me know if you have ideas that might attract the interest of the wider membership.

You will find details elsewhere in this newsletter of the forthcoming Annual General Meeting at which I hope to see many of you. It will be the time for members to renew their subscriptions for the coming year and you will find a form attached to this newsletter. Please complete and return it however you choose to pay your subscription. For data protection reasons, we do need you to confirm that you are content for UERSA to hold and use your contact details.

Finally, and importantly, retirements mean that we have a couple of vacancies on the UERSA Committee and we really would welcome expressions of interest in filling them. The Committee only meets four times a year and most meetings are over within the hour. Please think about it!

David Batty

Recent UERSA events

A well attended lunch was enjoyed by members at the New Inn which offered a wide ranging seasonal menu.

Chapel Choir Concert

Mary Harris Memorial Chapel

7th June

The Choir entertained nearly 55 members with a thrilling programme of sacred and secular music. From the madrigals of Thomas Weelkes to choral arrangements of 20th century classics like Bohemian Rhapsody. After the conclusion of the concert, wine and cheese refreshments were served in the Old Library where members could meet the student choir. It was a very friendly evening and very positive feedback was received.

Fun Trivia Quiz

Isca Centre

19th June 2018

Approximately 30 participants attended the fun quiz, including light refreshment half way through. It was a fun evening and thanks to Jan Reynolds and Linda Hale for organising, plus a special thanks to the quizmaster (Stuart Martin)

Walking Group

Dartmoor Walk at Holne

26th June

Jan kindly led a walk around Holne on a bright sunny June day, which was attended by a number of our walking group members.

Summer Party
Exeter Cricket Club Pavilion
 21st June

The Summer Party was a great social occasion, with 60-70 members gathering on the pavilion's balcony whilst enjoying sandwiches and a cream tea. We were blessed with good weather and it was so nice to catch up with other members. We raised £110.25 in support of Devon Freewheelers and a certificate of appreciation was received shortly afterwards.

Cream tea – the Devon way !

Walking Group
Sandford Circular Walk
11th July

Paul and Simone Romain kindly led a 6 mile walk in the area surrounding their home at Sandford, which was very well attended.

The weather was kind to us, and with a wide selection of scenery and paths and a good time was had by all.

The walk was followed by a delicious lunch prepared by Simone, and served in their beautiful garden. The food was superb with so many choices available. Thank you very much for being such hospitable hosts and making the day so enjoyable.

Gardens Group
The Squirrels, Torquay
22nd July

A small town environmental garden, landscaped with small ponds and 7ft waterfall. Interlinked through abuttilons to Japanese, Italianate, tropical areas. With 27 hidden rain water storage containers, lots of seating, sculptures and topiary birds there certainly was a lot to see. This was quite a unique garden (and not liked by all) but certainly worth a visit if only to see how extraordinary it is.

Gardens Group

The Italian Garden at Great Ambrook, near Ipplepen

15th August 2018

Just under 20 members of the garden group visited The Italian Garden at Great Ambrook, a magical 4-acre secluded place, built just over a hundred years ago just before the First World War. It was created for Arthur Smith Graham, a wealthy man from Surrey, as a beautiful horticultural fantasy and a fun and private space for him to enjoy with his intellectual, religious and gay friends. It is unusual and complex yet practical in terms of style, layout and construction and is the architect T. H. Lyon's only extant garden design.

Already overgrown when the Great Ambrook estate was sold off and split up in 1963, the garden was completely lost under brambles and ivy in a thick wood for the next 25 years. It was so well hidden that even those now living right next to it did not realise it still existed and what fabulous structures were in it until Ken & Doris Rees, who had moved into the Coach House a few years earlier, rediscovered it in 1988. They and a friend, Jim Mortimore, undertook the majority of the clearance over three years and the Kemp family helped out on Sunday afternoons for seventeen years but new features are still coming to light today.

The Italian Garden is now Grade-II listed on Historic England's 'Register of Parks & Gardens of Special Historic Interest'. This remained a woodland garden, unrestored but well maintained until the death of Ken Rees at the end of 2013. The protracted probate process over the next three years allowed it to get seriously overgrown and some structures deteriorated further. In 2016 it was bought by Stephanie Berry and Kim Partridge, who have a love of heritage, design and plants. It is now gradually being tidied up, a large number of trees are being removed in phases over several years to both bring in more light and reduce damage to structures and paths. A programme of restoration is planned but this will be a long-term project to ensure the integrity of the design and the spirit of the garden are maintained and enhanced.

Visits are only possible by prior arrangement through a limited number of guided tours led by the garden's historian, Angela Dodd-Crompton. She has spent over twelve years as a volunteer investigating the garden, its design and the lives of those associated with it.

Gardens Group
Sedgewell Coach House Gardens, Olchard
2nd September

A private wildlife sculpture garden and ongoing sculptural project. Heather Jansch, world famous sculptor best known for her life-size driftwood horses, makes innovative use of recycled materials in her extensive garden. With 14 acres to explore there was something for everyone including fabulous views, from the woodland trail to a stream-bordered water meadow, herbaceous border and medicinal herb garden.

For those of you who may wish to learn more on Heather Jansch a link to her website is included.

University of Exeter News

New statistics reveal the University of Exeter is now the 14th best university in the country, a drop of one place, according to the Guardian's annual university guide (DevonLive, June 2018)

The region's tallest building has sparked debate about whether we're seeing too much brand-new student housing being built and if there is demand. Beckley Point in Plymouth is a 23-storey tower. Across both of Exeter University's campuses the number of students has risen almost 20% in four years from 16,657 in 2012/13 to 19,772 in 2016/17. Meanwhile over the same period Plymouth University's figure fell from 22,651 to 21,645. (BBC, June 2018)

Patients who see the same doctor again and again have lower death rates, a study suggests. The benefits applied to visits to GPs and specialists and were seen across different cultures and health systems. University of Exeter researchers said the human aspect of medical practice was "potentially life-saving" but had been neglected. Continuity of care is known to be particularly beneficial for patients with chronic conditions, long-term mental health issues and complex needs. (BBC, June 2018)

Asking 10 'critical' questions before embarking on a serious relationship can help couples thrive, a new study undertaken by the University of Exeter, and led by Professor Anne Barlow of the Law School suggests. If you would like to view the 10 questions please click here (ITV News, July 2018)

Tests on four rivers in the county revealed 34 pesticides in total, as well as nine antimicrobials and veterinary drugs. The tests were carried out using a high-quality new technique created by scientists in Greenpeace Research Laboratories at the University of Exeter. The water samples were taken in rural areas from the rivers Culm, Exe, Otter and Tale. Scientists said they were surprised and concerned by the results and warned there would be harmful effects for plants and wildlife. (Devonlive, July 2018)

Scientists from the University of Exeter based in Cornwall have made a breakthrough in the fight to stop the spread of Asian hornets. Last year the team travelled to Jersey and France to test electronic radio tags, which they attached to the invasive species in their nests. The aim of the government-backed initiative was to find a fast, efficient way of tracking the hornets so nests can be disposed of. Professor Juliet Osbourne, from the university, said finding nests early, was "vital" to stop the hornets "colonising the UK". (BBC, 4 July 2018)

A young Romanian couple who met while studying medical imaging together at the University of Exeter's Medical School have married and graduated on the same day. (BBC, July 2018)

The fabulous mixed a capella group of students from the University of Exeter have released their first music video of the Simon and Garfunkel's track A Sound of Silence, Illuminations made a debut appearance at the Edinburgh Fringe, and are due to appear on the Sky 1 show Sing: Ultimate A Cappella aired in September. To view the video on YouTube please click here

For centuries humans have sought the 'elixir of life' – a mythical potion that supposedly would grant the drinker eternal life. Professor Matt Whiteman from the University of Exeter has developed a range of new compounds which deliver hydrogen sulphide to the cells in much lower quantities than others have achieved. Prof Whiteman teamed up with Professor Lorna Harries, of the University of Exeter Medical School to find ways of delivering the compounds to where they are needed. (DevonLive, Aug 2018)

Baboons at a Devon zoo have been observed flossing their teeth with broom bristles and their own hairs. Charlotte Morgan, an animal behaviour student at the University of Exeter, spotted the primates cleaning between their teeth at Paignton Zoo. "My research project is looking to see if personality is related to dental flossing activity in the troop. From the results of my study, there does appear to be a relationship between certain personality traits and dental flossing." (BBC, Sept 2018)

RETIRING COLLEAGUES: TELL THEM!

Chris Austin and David Batty gave a presentation about UERSA to a recent University Preparing for Retirement Course. In doing so, they noted once again that owing to data protection constraints, it is hard to track down people at the University about to retire, to be able to give them information about the Association. Both those becoming fully retired or moving to part-time positions from a full-time post are eligible to join. If you know of anyone in this position, do please tell them about UERSA and its activities and try to tempt them into membership.

RETIRED STAFF ASSOCIATION

Treasurer's Report for 2017/18

The UERSA account is held within the general University financial system, and is audited as part of this system at the close of each financial year on 31st July. I am extremely grateful to Mrs Lynda Swallow of Finance Services for being such a helpful and efficient point of contact with that system.

The position at audit for the immediate past and three preceding years is given below. "Events" are those that have been advertised in newsletters for all members, while "Activities" are those held within special interest groups. It was agreed by the Executive Committee some years ago that the latter should aim to break even but the former could be supported from general funds. Events that benefited in this way in the 2017/18 accounts were:

the refreshments after the AGM,

wine at the Christmas lunch,

a donation to the University Art Fund in lieu of charges for refreshments after a sculpture tour on campus.,

the quiz evening in June 2018, the cancellation charge for a planned and undersubscribed trip to Tremough campus.

At the end of the financial year UERSA was waiting for invoices for the 2018 summer party and the concert by the Chapel Choir, so these costs will reduce the balance to slightly below £6900.

"Administration Costs" cover printing, photocopying, postal charges and general running expenses, while "Disbursements" comprise donations approved by the Committee. These were to Wonford Methodist Church, who in earlier years had supplied crockery for use at Garden Parties, and to Exeter Cricket Club who had made available the pavilion for the Garden Party as well as parking space throughout the year for members attending events. A donation for the summer 2018 garden party will appear in the 2018/19 accounts

Our balance is still very healthy and the Committee has once again proposed to maintain the subscription at £8. Members will note that membership income has remained steady for the last four years

I can supply detailed information about individual transactions on request, and will be very happy to answer any questions at the AGM.

(UERSA)

Subscription Fee for 2018/19

To renew your UERSA membership for 2018/19, please complete the form below and send it to Wojtek Krzanowski as indicated. In order to comply with the recently introduced General Data Protection Regulations, you are required to consent to your contact data being held by the Association – so it is vital that you do send the completed form, at the latest by 1 December. Please note that the UERSA Data Protection and Privacy Policy can be found at <http://groups.exeter.ac.uk/uersa/>

The annual fee is unchanged at £6 (including a named partner/spouse), but new members who joined after 1st April 2018 do not have to pay again till next year. You may either pay by cheque, made payable to 'University of Exeter' and sent with your completed form, or electronically using the following bank details:

Account name: University of Exeter
Account Number: 00724890
Sort Code: 60-08-06
Reference / Description / Narrative: UERSAX10-??????????

In order for us to match up your payment to your name the NINE characters ?????????? should be used to enter your initial followed by your surname.

For example, Jane Rogers becomes UERSAX10-JROGERS. If your surname is more than eight characters long please omit any vowels (and also any letters which would take you beyond the 9 characters total). Thus Wojtek Krzanowski becomes UERSAX10-WKRZNWSK while Henry Whitton-Smythe becomes UERSAX10-HWHTTNSMY

As you can imagine, with over 300 members the reference element is very important as an identifier for us so please only use your initial and surname, and nothing else (such as numbers or partner's name).

Whenever any of your details change please notify Wojtek at W.J.Krzanowski@exeter.ac.uk In particular it is important to let him know if you change your email address (so he can ensure that you continue to receive UERSA communications), if you want to be removed from any of the group distribution lists, or indeed if you no longer wish to remain in UERSA.
