NEWSLETTER Issue 29

January 2014

UERSA website <http://groups.exeter.ac.uk/uersa/index.html> - for those on the internet

Editor's Comment

It's that time of year again!

Fully recovered from all the delights - and, yes, some of the excesses - of the Festive Season, we are now truly into the New Year. Let's hope no members of UERSA have been blown or washed away by the seemingly endless rain and high winds. Anyway, here for your delectation is a whole New Year awaiting you of promising UERSA events that I hope will raise your spirits. I'm sure you will notice that our two new groups – Nature Walks and Table Tennis – are up and running, and have their own pages on the UERSA website. If your interests lie that way, please do support them, and of course, all our other groups.

I hope some of you may be interested to read rather more erudite reviews of cultural events than we have had before, (my arm-twisting technique has been improving!) but don't forget to look at the website to see descriptions of last year's group events, I can only include a small part in the newsletter.

If you are new to UERSA or up to now you haven't taken part in anything then give it a try by joining in what's available or let any member of the Committee know what you'd like. Don't be bashful - you will find all the various groups delighted to see new faces and happy to be approached if you want to find out more about what they do. I personally have had great pleasure from my involvement with the Committee, and from the group I regularly attend, largely from getting to know people better.

Anyway, fed up with the current British weather and having put the newsletter in capable hands, I'll be venturing to foreign parts for a month. I hope you will enjoy the programme or, like me, get some winter respite either at home or abroad.

Belatedly, but sincerely, a Happy & Prosperous New Year to you all

Rachel

Chairman's Message for January 2014 Newsletter

Well that's another year gone, one full of unexpected events and surprises, as usual. Perhaps it's just as well we cannot predict the future with any degree of precision. Looking back and being reminded of programmes like Tomorrow's World, it's fascinating to see how far it got things wrong, although sometimes it did get it right, often as regards technology, a classic driver of change. Our world seems to change ever more rapidly, particularly as regards the internet and social media: who could have predicted that ten years ago? But even for technophobes like me there are some advantages. I don't Tweet or use Facebook, but I do find Skype a godsend for keeping in touch with family, far and near, especially at this time of year. As we get older, family and roots seem to become ever more important. Indeed issues involving a sense of identity, of who we are, where we came from and where we are going, may well loom larger in this coming year which will see a referendum on Scottish Independence and EU elections in which ultra-nationalist parties may do alarmingly well. As regards our Exeter identity, it was the University of Exeter which brought us all together to this part of the world from so many varied places and countries, and that variety is one of the nice things about UERSA. Yet despite the variety, what continues to unite us is our past experience of the University and its location in Exeter and Devon. But we cannot just live in the past and on past memories: we still have something to say to the University about where it is going and I hope that in 2014, as the University plans for its future, it may be willing to listen to us who helped shape its past and present. A hopeful sign of this is the recent invitation to UERSA, after a bit of a gap, to send two representatives to two planning-for-retirement sessions to speak about what we do and what we offer. We are a lively organisation with a wide and growing range of activities, but, all the same, it would be nice if more members got more actively involved. A happy and challenging New Year to you all!

Alastair Logan

Personal Notes

We are sorry to record the deaths of several people who were, or were known to, our members. If you receive any such notification, please pass it on to Sue Odell – email : seodell@bavent.eclipse.co.uk

Dr Joan Rees died on 28 August 2013, at the age of 89, just 12 days after her husband David (reported in newsletter 28). Joan was a Lecturer at the Department of Mathematics between 1965 and 1984. She was also a talented painter of watercolours. After her retirement from the Maths Dept she concentrated on her painting and exhibited at the University and at the RD&E amongst other venues.

From Anne Mayes 28th August and Peter Vamos

Mrs Mary Steiner, wife of Dr. Erich Steiner, died in October. Mary was well known among the academic community, and I would be grateful if this information could be relayed to all UERSA members.

From: Edward Abel, Tuesday, October 15, 2013

Ann Whiley nee Ridgwell Members of UERSA will be sorry to hear that Ann Whiley, better remembered in Exeter by her maiden name Ann Ridgwell, has died. She taught in the Classics dept. from 1961 until 1963, when she left to get married. She was thus Jackson Knight's successor, and was replaced by John Glucker.

After she left Exeter she taught in various schools from Tunbridge to Cardiff. Sadly she'd been suffering from Alzheimer's these last few years.

From David Harvey (25th October 2013)

Mrs. Kati Vamos, wife of Peter Vamos, died peacefully at home, November 22nd 2013

From Sue Odell

Professor Paul Doe died on 15 December at the age of 82. He was Professor of Music from 1971 until 1991. He had apparently been seriously ill in hospital since August.

From Alan Leadbetter.

Mrs. Kathryn Ashcroft Dr Stan Ashcroft (Engineering) has let me know that his wife Kathryn died at Exeter Hospice on Boxing Day, 26th December. He says that members of Engineering will have known her, as will some of the UERSA Walking Group.

Reports on General UERSA Events

Trip to Stratford-on-Avon, Thursday 12th September.

For the longest trip yet undertaken by UERSA, a party of 21, presumably the Association's cultural elite, met at the Squash Club for an 8.15am start. The journey proved to be a smooth and comfortable one, thanks to the good road links between Exeter and Stratford and to the helpful and efficient driver provided by Otter Coaches.

After a halfway comfort break, we were in Stratford around 12.20. Though we had met rain on the way, we had a fine afternoon in Stratford that allowed most of us to have a snack lunch alongside the Avon by the Memorial Theatre. The matinee performance of Hamlet produced more mixed reactions. The recent revamping of the main theatre's auditorium has produced a more intimate lay-out in the circles, though the audience in the stalls perhaps has some problems with the new-style thrust-stage in their midst. The production itself, directed by David Farr, had received some critical reviews, even the more favourable ones allowing it was something of a 'curate's egg'. The main problem lay with Jonathan Slinger's interpretation of the central role. He offered a 'roaring boy' characterisation of Hamlet, a study in emotional incontinence at odds with the more traditional picture of a man tortured by introspection and indecision. It rather overbore other performances, particularly the female ones of Gertrude and Ophelia, and only Greg Hicks as a suavely menacing Claudius and Robin Soans as a pedantically over-insistent Polonius (his killing was almost a relief) escaped the effect. The faster action late in the play was handled better, but, overall, the best one could say was that the production jerked a classic out of any rut of over-familiarity. The general feeling in the party, though, was that the performance might be memorable more for wrong reasons than right ones.

We had a brief opportunity for wandering along the river before meeting the coach for a 6.00 pm departure. We were back at the Squash Club on the dot of 9.00 pm. It had been a long day but one that most of us felt had been a positive experience. The feeling seemed to be that UERSA might venture another trip to the Memorial Theatre in a couple of years.

Coffee Mornings (arranged by Jan Reynolds) were held regularly on the last Tuesday in each month (apart from July/Aug/Dec.) from 10 a.m.-12noon.

A reminder about parking charges:- If you pay for parking and show your 'parking receipt' this amount will be refunded at the bar on your purchase of coffees, etc.

The Steam Museum of the Great Western Railway - Friday 18 October 2013

Sadly this had to be cancelled because of insufficient numbers.

UERSA Annual General Meeting held on 11th October 2013

Once a year there's an opportunity for all members to have their say about UERSA. Fortunately, most members seem satisfied with what their Committee is doing for them (or do they keep quiet because criticism might expose their flank resulting in rapid election to the Committee?)

It's good to know the Association is vibrant, functioning, financially sound and filling a gap in the lives of members - though talking to many members makes one wonder whether retired people do actually have any gaps in their busy lives.

Points from the Minutes (which are available on the web under Newsletters and Archives) :

Subscription Fees for 2013/14 It was unanimously agreed that they should remain at £6 per person/per couple. Cheques to be made payable to The University of Exeter

Changes to the Committee for 2013/14:

Alan Leadbetter will become President of UERSA for a year from the AGM 2013.

Mary Banks will become Immediate Past President for a year from the AGM 2013.

(Anne Mayes will leave the Committee, having completed her term as Immediate Past President.)

Tony Wragg has been voted as President Elect of UERSA for 2013/14.

Christine King takes Judy Mead's place as Membership Secretary as from the AGM 2013.

Christmas Lunch held on 10th December 2013, at the Devon Hotel

The run-up to the Festive Season fills rapidly with lunches and other gatherings. It's good, as the days draw in and outdoor activities decrease, to have other activities. The Christmas Lunch is one that brings together people from every section of UERSA, a good chance to catch up with people you haven't seen for some time and learn what they're up to. Numbers were a little down this year but it made circulating that bit easier, with no detriment to the conversation before and during the lunch. Those of us who often attend pre-Christmas lunches from a sense of duty look forward with pleasure to UERSA's lunch as one where there's a good chance of knowing most people either personally or because paths crossed in our working days; but, above all else, it's the conversation - such a remarkable collection of people with equally remarkable diverse interests. There's no stumbling to find topics because just listening is very fascinating. Well, now we will have to wait until the, hopefully, balmy days of summer for the enjoyable summer event.

Reports and News from Special Interest Groups:

If you can get on the internet, all this information can be found on the UERSA website (<http://groups.exeter.ac.uk/uersa/index.html>) where it is kept up-to-date, and is easy to navigate (thanks to Roger Coles).

If you are interested in participating in any of these groups, please apply to the Membership Secretary, Chris King. This is particularly important if you are unable to use e-mail, as information and updates on group activities are sent by ordinary mail only to members of that group

You can contact Chris by telephone or via her e-mail address above. Or you can download an application form, in pdf format, from the Membership forms page.

Reports on Group Activities

Here are some of the highlights of our special interest group activities over the last few months, gleaned either directly from the organisers, or from browsing our website :-

The Bridge Group (Paul Ellison)

“My general member email had a positive effect and we have two or possibly three extra players (at the time of writing this report - early December). As well as looking for more evening players, I had been asked to enquire if anyone wanted to play in the afternoon. There was only one positive reply for afternoon Bridge, so I doubt that that idea will develop, but I will hold the existing name and wait to see if any more positive responses arrive in my in-box!”

Garden Group (Anne Mayes) – “from some lovely accounts (with photos) on their web page of last year’s visits I have picked on the last two – the fascinating and ancient Forde Abbey with tour of both the house and gardens (the photo highlights a stately pile and a (modern) fountain) and Andrew’s Corner, a charming sounding and welcoming place on a smaller scale, with tea and cakes provided!”

Music/ Opera Group Autumn 2013

“The Rape of Lucretia” by Glyndebourne Touring Opera, at the Theatre Royal, Plymouth

In Benjamin Britten’s centenary year Helen Pope chose his chamber opera “The Rape of Lucretia”. It was written for Kathleen Ferrier and Peter Pears who appeared in the first production at Glyndebourne in 1946. This is not one of Britten’s most popular operas and is rarely performed, so this was a good opportunity to see it both for lovers of Britten’s work and also for other opera lovers who wanted to see something new. I count myself among the latter category but others in our group were firmly in the former. It was a most successful evening and I believe that everyone returned home pleased to have participated. All of us, I am sure, would agree that the opera is not an easy one to appreciate fully at first hearing, but that the performances of singers and musicians were superb. Where we would disagree I think is in our eagerness, or lack of it, to make an effort to see it again in the near future!

The meal in the View restaurant opposite the theatre was eclectic, providing a wide range of Japanese, Chinese, Thai and Indian foods of quality and value, as much as one desired and cheerfully served.

The major disappointment was the low attendance by UERSA members. Unfortunately, the event did not prove to be very popular and after reserving our usual 40 seats we ended up with only 20 takers - of whom half were not UERSA members, although none-the-less welcome for that, so we must hope that Puccini’s ‘Manon Lescaut’ next Spring proves more popular, otherwise the continuation of this group may be open to question.

Nature Walks (Judy Mead)

The new Nature Walks group started in January. The first series of 6 walks are fully subscribed and we are looking forward to some interesting outings over the months until June. The plan is to meet for 2-3 hours once per month and a local naturalist, Nigel Pinhorn, will lead us on an informative walk in a different venue near Exeter each month. A total of 16 nature enthusiasts have signed up for the course of 6 monthly walks.

Our first venue was at Bickley on the River Exe on January 8th - just after 3 or 4 weeks of rather heavy rain and floods! We donned our wellingtons for a very interesting (but muddy) amble through the woods filled with lichens, fungi, mosses and bird song. Nigel Pinhorn, our naturalist leader, was very informative and enthusiastic and soon had us turning over logs to search for springtails and beetles and tickling webs hoping to surprise the resident spiders.

Restaurant Group (Frankie Peroni and Liz Smith)

Over the Spring and Summer the group enjoyed lunches at five new venues – The Cote in Cathedral Yard, The Galley in Topsham, Nessies's Bistro in Crediton, The Railway Inn Honiton, and the Huntsman Inn at Ide. We also made a welcome return visit to the Lamb Inn at Longdown. In the Autumn there were two more new venues for the group - The Salty Pigeon in Exeter and Exeter Catering College. Both events were very well supported. While the group appreciates good food the lunches have also proved to be very enjoyable social occasions. Our thanks to all those involved in organising the different visits.

If anyone has any NEW venues they would like to suggest please let us know. We are always looking for suggestions - and for people to host the lunches.

Table Tennis Group (Ruth Preist)

Introductory sessions held in October and November had a total of 24 different people showing interest and four tables were used in both months. Many thanks to the UERSA Committee for feeling that it was worth supporting. We have now set up an official group which met in December. Several keen players were not able to come but 10 enjoyed many laughs and lots of bending and stretching to recover the balls.

Anyone interested in joining the table tennis group please contact Ruth Preist (preist.exeter@blueyonder.co.uk)

Walking Group (Trevor Preist)

A taste of what walkers have enjoyed last Autumn is best seen by visiting their web pages where there are accounts (with photos) of all their walks. All seem to have been successful, mostly with good weather and views, in varying locations and countryside. Many appeared to be focussed on food (Exmouth Cake Walk, picnic with a view, annual Lunch Walk) but then that is part of the fun of walking!

Wine Tasting Group (John Carroll)

The Wine Group has had another two excellent events: the first was Wines for the Festive Season arranged by Di and John Jacob at Majestic Wines on 29-Oct (Lauram, the manager, gave us a very good and informative presentation); and the second was Wines Off the Beaten Track arranged and presented by Rachel and Brian Kirby at 21 The Mint. They certainly found some interesting and different wines for us to try.

Now, looking to the next few months!

FORTHCOMING GENERAL EVENTS (UERSA)

Newton House, Newton Surmaville, Yeovil 14.00 hrs 5th June

This is a house and garden visit, originally arranged for the gardens group by Anne Mayes, but open to all UERSA members. Anne has written :-

“I managed to go this year, I was thinking of it as a garden trip, but the price included a guided tour of the house and I thought that would appeal to the wider membership.

The house is not normally open, they have only opened to groups last summer and next because they are raising monies for two breast cancer charities following their daughter's diagnosis at the age of 22. You may have seen her on Spotlight and in The Times recently talking about her blog. They bought the estate in 2007 and spent the following years renovating and restoring both house and gardens. It was finished in 1612 and remained in the same family until 2007. There were many links with nearby Montecute - and as our tour starts at 14.00 hrs it is possible to visit Montecute in the morning. It is rare to find an estate of this size still in private ownership and both the house and the gardens are well worth seeing.

Coaches are out so it will be self-drive; it's less than 50 miles from Exeter. The cost is £15 to include the guided tour of the house, self-tour of the gardens and cream tea. We need at least 20 but no more than 50.

Obviously it's too early to ask for firm intentions, but it would be helpful to have expressions of interest. I had to book this early, as the availability is very limited.

I already have 40 expressions of interest from those on email, perhaps those who are not, but would like to be kept informed, could ring me on 01647 252603?”

Anne Mayes (e-mail:a.c.mayes@Exeter.ac.uk)

Walk and Tour - 10.45 am Thurs 10th April 2014 Lydford Castle

This is an item from the Walking Group's programme. Trevor is happy for it to be open to all UERSA members.

Bob Higham (Archaeology) will give a guided tour of a nearby castle as part of the walking group programme. The tour is open to other members, simply contact Trevor Preist (preist.exeter@blueyonder.co.uk) to let him know you wish to attend and then turn up at 10.45 am at the car park in Lydford village.

Lunch is available at the local pub (or bring a picnic). There will be a walk in the gorge (2 pm) so do join in if you wish.
